Showed how ridiculous the court has gotten

Thesis:

Needs to be an interpretive argumentative claim.

Making a claim abt text, not that you can prove based on quotes.

Claim needs to be something about how they put together their arguments.

Brown in this chapter models the types of vulnerabilities that she describes by

Needs to be something someone could disagree with.

Brown in her advocacy for vulnerabilities alienates audiences by doing ...

Descriptions of ui undergrads distract from her arguments abt communal responsibility.

Argumentative claim means a reasonable person could disagree.
